Wet Streets and Drink Blamed for 3 Crashes

Wet streets were blamed for two automobile crashes which damaged four cars, but caused no injuries to drivers last Thursday.

But for a crash which involved three machines at Sartori and El Prado last Friday, police arrested a driver for excessive intoxication. He was William E. McCarthy, 48, of Redondo Beach, who struck a southbound auto while he was driving north on Thursday and bounced that machine into two others parked at the curb.

McCarthy, a National Supply worker, was fined $100 which was suspended by City Judge Robert Lessing Monday on condition that he pays for the damage to the machines he struck. His driver's license was indefinitely suspended.

In the most violent of the two crashes last Thursday, cars crashed by Jane Smith, 1754 Gramercy, and Alice M. Dillinger of 2468 Torrance boulevard collided at Arlington and 218th street, both cars spinning off the road.

An hour later at 218th and Martina cars driven, according to police, by Frank M. Borges Caruth of Normandie avenues, and P. H. Hall of 1916 Gramercy, figured in a head-on crash but with little damage.

TWO OTHER DRUNK DRIVERS JAILED

For the second time in three months Oscar P. Wilson of Duarte was convicted of driving while intoxicated here Tuesday. His first conviction was Sept. 25. Wilson, who was too drunk to stand up while he was being booked, was arrested late Monday after he had crashed his car into a machine parked in front of E. L. Smith's home at 2414 Torrance boulevard.

He was sentenced to 90 days by Judge J. H. Fess, who sentenced Schumacher found Wilson, 30, seated in his wrecked machine, trying to start it after the impact with Smith's parked car. The collision had shoved Smith's machine 60 feet, the officer stated. Wilson sustained a slight cut over one eye from the crash and this injury was treated at Torrance Memorial hospital before he was jailed.

"B. C. Hancy, 36, of Oklahoma, was arrested for driving while intoxicated on Cabrillo avenue last Sunday. He was committed to the county jail for 15 days.

JOHNSTONS HOSTS AT DINNER PARTY

Festive Dishes Mark Yuletide As In Old Days

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 22 (U.P.)—Wisconsin housewives today prepare apple, lettuce, spinach, ribs, stuffed goose, and gingerbread and waffles, for Christmas is only a few days off.

Traditionally a day of feasting and rejoicing throughout the world, Christmas in Wisconsin will bring to festive boards a variety of foods as diverse as the nationalities which compose the population of this state.

Each town in itself, and towns within cities, will again take on the atmosphere of Old Country villages as mothers stew over steaming pots in their kitchens.

Czeches Not So Gay Far removed, at least for a week, from the swift pace of the stream-lined modern world, the large Czechoslovakian community in Kenosha where lace tablecloths are laid with plates covered with poplite, honey cracker, the national dish of the homeland. It will be a sadder Christmas there than in past years, for the homeland has been cut off from Europe during the past year, but as one housewife said, Christmas without poplite is like Christmas without Santa Claus.

Parhads of the Czechoslovakian children will be crossed with honey again too—the mother's blessing for a sweet and nourishing new year.

Sugar waffles baked on specially imported irons made only in Belgium and covered with nutmeg will be served in the homes of Green Bay. Most of the homeland customs of Christmas time have been abandoned by the Belgians, but waffles and chocolate still remain in almost all of the homes.

Norse Children Mask For the children of Norwegian families living near Elrick the holiday season is another of low-key. Disguised and masked, the children run from house to house, knocking on doors until they are opened. Once inside, the children dance and caper, until their hosts and hostesses identify them and provide food and drink.

Most Norwegians celebrate the birth of Christ with a feast of lutefisk, Norse fish delicacy, but some sit down on Christmas eve to heaping platters of spare ribs. Best known of the Christmas dishes prepared in Wisconsin, however, is the Watertown burger which is a German dish. The burgers spend weeks cramming specially prepared molasses down the throats of the geese to produce the over-fattened fowl for tables throughout the country.

Swedish Goose Prepared in Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Port Washington and other German cities, Gaenslein smoked shanks of goose—stuffed with rich butter cookies sprinkled with multi-colored sugar are the most common. Bakery shops up to the form of Kris Kringle, Christmas trees and animals, specially prepared molasses will perform intricate gymnastic drills and dances while proud

Missouri Expects Oil Boom

TRENTON, Mo. (U.P.)—Oil companies have leased a large area in north central Missouri and there is a possibility that Missouri may soon be listed among the oil-producing states.

parents beam and drink beer at the Turnhalle. Much of the spirit of the Old World remains, but with the replacement of the sleigh and horse by the streamlined automobile, the old-fashioned wicker chair by a chromium-finished lawn, old customs fade and die. Soon, the old folks say, Wisconsin, too, will be just a place where Santa Claus slides down the chimney to leave toys for Junior and Sally.

Vote Total Here Now 3,796

This community lost 1,068 voters from its total registration by reason of their failure to vote at either the August primary or November elections this year, it was disclosed today by registrar of Voters W. M. Kerr.
